

Cameron McLellan

Cameron McLellan joined Polypipe in 1993 after graduating from Northumbria University with a degree in Industrial Design.

His career developed quickly holding several manufacturing management roles including Production Director, then Operations Director before becoming Managing Director within the Building Products business.

Invited to join the MBO of Polypipe in 2005, he worked tirelessly with the team to establish manufacturing and supply chain as a key strength in the successful IPO of Polypipe Group plc in April 2014.

Cameron has also taken a number of external roles promoting manufacturing in the Sheffield City Region through Enterprising Doncaster, The Manufacturing Forum, the SCR Science and Innovation Board and at a national level as a Non-Executive Director of the EEF Ltd.

Cameron was asked to join the Company of Cutlers in Hallamshire as a Freeman in October 2011 and was then invited to become a member in 2012.

He has been married to Emma for 12 years and has 2 children Charlotte and Isabelle. His hobbies include cycling, classic cars, guitars, collecting art and the occasional ill-judged foray onto a golf course.
